

Niro's Sri Lankan Street Food Feast

MENU

Niro's Paruppu Vadai

At every tea shop in Sri Lanka you can find this crispy deep fried fritter, it's a great snack or an easy breakfast, best served with black tea and a perfect side dish to any meal. This dish is also vegan friendly.

“

My dream for the future is to keep making my favourite dish, Kothu Roti. If no one stopped me I would eat Kothu Roti three times a day. It makes me so happy to make this dish.”

Kothu Roti

Kothu Roti or chopped roti is a classic Sri Lankan street food and the signature dish of Niro's food stall called, 'Tukka Tukka Kothuroti Man'. This is an authentic recipe which can be made vegan or with chicken and Niro recommends you make it your own by adding your own combination of veggies and spices.

Payasum

Payasum is a very sweet dessert and an essential sweet at any Sri Lankan Tamil celebration. This dish can be served warm, straight from the stove top or served chilled in individual glasses or small bowls.
